SENIOR CLASS

With the final sweep of the hour hand comes a deep feeling of regret; for, we, the Class of '52 are graduating. Next year we shall all scatter to every part of the nation and with us shall go the memories of our friends and our school.

We will long remember our freshmen year at Brownell. That was the year we suffered through the humility of initiation for our beloved seniors. Also, 1948 marked the year of our first formal dance. Who can ever forget the thrill and confusion of that snowy night?

With sophomore year came new friendships and valued experiences. Before we realized it, the year had slipped past and we all went our separate ways for the summer looking forward to the next year.

Junior year was a turning point in our lives. We grew up and became conscious that we each had responsibilities and ambitions to fulfill. We plunged into the preparations for the Junior Jambore and remember how proud we were of ourselves when it was a success? In June of that year, 1951, we danced the Maypole perfectly while Dr. Henry looked on with astonishment.

As we walk up the aisle to receive our diplomas, we'll be thinking back, perhaps with a few tears in our eyes, on all the joys and sorrows we have had as a class. We will remember senior study, the Christmas Carols, the parties, and style show, the friends who have shared our four years with us, and most of all, we will remember Brownell Hall and its traditions.

We will know as we say our last good-byes what the poet must have felt when he said "To leave is to die a little"; for we, too, "shall die a little" as we depart.

JUNIOR CLASS

This year the Junior class has increased in size from seven to sixteen girls. One of our new members is Patsy Liang from faraway Hong Kong, China. Also new are Helen Hoyt from California, Peggy Harper from Idaho, Lois Noe from Colorado, and Shirley Smock and Marilyn Piercy from Nebraska. New Omaha girls are Judy Douglas, Barbara Kaplan, Barbara Robinson, and Joyce Wittenmyer.

Our class officers, elected last fall to serve for the whole year, are Peggy Harper, President; Joyce Wittenmyer, who was elected Vice-President to fill Susie Shrewder's place when Susie became ill and had to leave school; Jane Elmore, Secretary; and Thea Krause, Treasurer.

As in previous years, the big Junior project was the Junior Jamboree, which is an annual school carnival. Our class also put on a candy sale and a luncheon to raise money for the Junior-Senior luncheon.

Another of our projects was the decoration of the gym for the Christmas Dance. Susie Shrewder, chairman of the decorating committee, did a beautiful job with greens, snowflakes, and large angels.

Our class sponsor is the new science teacher, Mrs. Rodney Thompson. She has been wonderful to our class in helping us to plan the winning skit at the Halloween party and in giving us a slumber party at her apartment. We know that without her help we would have had a much more difficult time in every way.

We now close our Junior year and, though it may be past, it will never be forgotten because of the wonderful times that it has held for us all.

Dear Ann:
I hope you had a great
summer and I will see you
in Sept. Love, Peg

SOPHOMORE CLASS

This year we sophomore are fourteen in number, but we are still going strong. Traces of the old freshmen class of '50 are present. Of course, the study halls are filled with giggles and you sometimes see us streaking through the library in an effort to arrive in class on time. At times we are the last ones in class; but we're always the first ones out.

Our class officers are the following: Lani De Vaughn, president; Marcia Day, vice-president; Marcia Nixon, secretary; and Susan Young, treasurer. Our representative to the Student Council is Jann Walker; our Brownell Belles reporter is Barbara Erdmann; our A. A. representatives are Barbara Sharpe, who is also the A. A. secretary, and Vicki Cornish; and the Triangle reporters are Marcia Day and Barbara Root. Our Sponsor, Mrs. Earl, has been a tremendous help this year; for without her our Treasure Hunt last December could not have been a success.

We have enjoyed this year as sophomores of Brownell Hall and we are looking forward to our junior year when we will again be on the loose.

*Oh, I'm, had

FRESHMAN CLASS

Early one morning last fall, twelve poor, defenseless, little (ha!) freshmen tramped into school in their long underwear, hip waders, diapers, and traditional 100 wired pigtails, to be initiated into Brownell Hall. It was loads of fun and something we shall never forget. We all got to really know the seniors and we will certainly miss them next year.

This year we had two sets of class officers. First semester they were the following: President, Ann Young; Vice-President, Betsy Downs; Secretary, Sandy Smith; Treasurer, Carol Swanson. The second semester the officers were President, Carol Swanson; Vice-President, Debbie Pilling; Secretary, Betsy Downs; Treasurer, Ann Young.

The freshmen accomplishments were a very successful dance which we gave with the sophomores in the new recreation room in February and in March a Miss Brownell Beauty Contest which was a lot of fun doing and we think was very successful. In the early spring we had the Freshman-Sophomore Dog Show which was a lot of work but we feel that we really accomplished something. We hope everyone had as much fun going to it as we had giving it.

We could never have done all this if it hadn't been for our wonderful sponsor, Nommie, who has given us so much guidance and help during the year.

Dear Ann, you're a wonderful friend. I hope it's a long way where you'll be. Love, [unclear]

Thanks a lot for all the fun. Mary

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADES

We of the seventh and eighth grades have had a very pleasant as well as profitable year, we think. We started in September with the following girls selected as our class officers: Cindy Cowdery, president; Debby Sharpe, vice-president; Ann Harper, secretary; and Rosemary Cooper, treasurer. Our A.A. representatives are Sally Williams and Jane Scott, our Student Council representative is Lisbeth Cherniack, and our advisor is Mrs. McQuarrie. We retained this directive group throughout the year.

Our work has been completely departmentalized this year with the home room as the base of operations.

We had our traditional Christmas luncheon served by the Seventh grade in honor of the eighth grade. The eighth grade was host at the Valentine party. The eighth grade had a wonderful Field Day which we hope will be a traditional activity.

We have this year clothed one Technical High School ninth grade girl as our Red Cross project. We provided twenty-eight overseas Red Cross gift boxes at Christmas time. We had a lovely thank-you note from an English nurse concerning these boxes.

Our graduation is being planned so that for the first time in the history of Brownell Hall we shall appear in caps and gowns. The seventh grade will arrange the altar while the Juniors assist us in the final ceremony.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council this year has sponsored several things in the way of school activities. They had a chili luncheon to raise money for the Triangle at the first of the year. The Hallowe'en party was again sponsored by the Council with the chairman of the Social Committee, Tish Low, directing the games and skits. The juniors, with their interpretation of "Alice in Wonderland", won first prize. The General Store was introduced next, and was very successful. During March, however, it was closed for an indefinite length of time. It is hoped that next year it will again be started and carried out even more successfully.

A booklet stating rules and regulations of the school was worked on all year, and was finally completed the last of the third quarter. The Student Council wishes to thank everyone who helped put it out. It took a long time but was worth it in the end.

The Christmas Formal, per usual, presented a headache in collecting the money; but it went off smoothly, again with Tish Low directing it. The juniors decorated the gym and everyone agreed that it looked the best it has for quite some time.

At Easter, many girls participated in the Easter Lily Parade by selling lilies down town. It's always fun even if it does rain.

The Red Cross, headed by the Vice-President of the Council, Zibby Bisgard, raised funds, and did a good job in promoting the Red Cross in the school.

A busy year with many new ideas and much hard work by all the members of the Council has been highlighted by the achievements attained through the cooperation of the whole school.

THE TRIANGLE

Each year a group of girls, elected by their classmates, form the Triangle Board to create an annual upon which the school may look with pride. Their work is difficult and often tedious; but from their labor comes a finished product to be enjoyed throughout the years.

Lannie Burritt, our editor, with willing help from her staff, has done a praiseworthy job on The Triangle this year. Much of the credit must be given to her staff, the following: Madelon Shaw, art editor; Tish Low, photography editor; Lowell Sharpe, secretary-treasurer; Ann Harper, Vicki Buckingham, Ann Young, Carol Swanson, Lani De Vaughn, Marcia Day, Barbara Root, Peg Harper, Mardi Burritt, and Mary Burdic.

Last, but not least, we wish to thank the classes, organizations, and individuals whose generous contributions have made possible the publication of The Triangle.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The A.A. has done a wonderful job this year. With the guidance of Mrs. Jourdan and the cooperation of its officers, Julie Morsman, president; Audra Lou Jones, vice-president; Barby Sharpe, secretary; and Sandy Smith, treasurer, the A.A. has done a great deal to promote school spirit and good sportsmanship.

Hockey was the first sport of the year with the seniors defeating the game freshmen team. After having recovered from this tournament, the seniors again came out victorious in the volleyball tournament. Basketball was our next important sport and after an exciting game the seniors were declared the champions.

To raise money for the senior awards and letters, the A.A. sponsored numerous candy sales and a very profitable White Elephant Sale.

Saint Matthias Day was held again this year on Memorial Park. Everyone had fun sliding, skiing, and tobogganing. And, of course, in the spring we had Field Day and Dad's Day followed by the picnic dinner and awards given to those excelling not only in athletic ability but also in sportsmanship and teamwork.

The A.A. wants to thank everyone for her marvelous and helpful cooperation in making this year the success it was. We all sincerely hope next year will be even more fun and more successful than this one.

BROWNELL BELLES

The Brownell Belles is our Brownell Hall newspaper. It is published with the hope that the girls will find in its pages items which will inform, interest, and entertain them.

This year the Brownell Belles was issued once a month. It was given free of cost to the students and also sent to their parents. Although the news sometimes has not been too plentiful, the reporters have always managed to find something to write up for the girls' interest. Besides the school news, the Belles this year has contained Student Council reports, A.A. news, items about the dorm, and the usual sprinkling of gossip.

Madelon Shaw, our editor; Zibby Bisgard, our Copy-Reader; and Judy Douglas, the assistant editor, have done wonderful work in putting out the paper, and, of course, much credit for its success is due to the reporters who so graciously donated their time to writing articles for the Belles.

BROWNELL CHOIR

When we think back over our years at Brownell, the choir stands out in everybody's mind as something very special.

To mention some of our engagements this year, we first sang at St. Martin's Church and next for Rotary. Of course, we won't leave out our traditional Christmas Carols which always leaves a lump in everybody's throat as they don their white robes.

After Christmas we were quite busy also, singing for the Scottish Rite, the Nebraska Alumnae, and, of course, we will never forget our concert at Joslyn for the Morning Musicale.

At the end of the year we always finish with our last concert at Brownell, the Spring Concert.

If I should mention all the girls that sang solos and helped with the choir the past year I would have to take the rest of the year; so I just want to thank you all very much.

Now we, the Choir of 1952, want to thank Mrs. Bernard Gribble, who we think is a marvelous director and also a marvelous person. Then we also want to thank Mrs. Thorson who helped us so much this year.

This year's officers were Tish Low, President; Georgie Anderson, Vice-President; and Helen Hoyt, Secretary-Treasurer. Thank You, everybody!
